

Name: _____ Date: _____ Hour: _____

Anticipation Guide: "Roman Fever" by Edith Wharton

Directions: Read through the statements below, then check those in the "you" column with which you agree. Carefully read "Roman Fever", noting the two main characters, Mrs. Slade and Mrs. Ansley. After you have read, check the boxes under each woman's column to show with which statements she would agree.

You	Statements	Mrs. Slade	Mrs. Ansley
	Friends who have known each other for many years do not hide secrets from each other.
	It is possible for a child to have a completely different personality than both of his/her parents.
	One friend is usually prettier than the other.
	It is difficult for friends not to exhibit jealousy sometimes.
	Being in a certain setting can change how people behave.
	Our parents behaved in a similar way to us when they were our age.
	The best way to know someone's intentions is to put him or her to the test.
	Love can make people do foolish things.		